African Prince Tells Whites There Are More Heathens in The South Than in All Africa

Just for That the White
Mob Gives Him "Great Experience"

By GABRIEL MACKAY
HERNDON, Va.—This little black-hill town of less than 1,000 inhabitants is back to normalcy again after taking a "pride" of the royal blood for a "rite" Tuesday night.

Prince Bullano Cetwayo, a grandson of the famous chief, Sheka, was taken from his headquarters at 10 p. m., carried some 9 miles to the home of County School Superintendent W. E. Woodson and there he was unceremoniously dumped out where his royal highness was best to find his way back home the next he could over a dark road through the woods.

Invited by Superintendent
This writer failed to locate the prince as it was learned he had returned to Alexandria, Va., where he is temporarily located while on a speaking tour of the commonwealth of Virginia.

Prince Cetwayo came here on Tuesday morning and made arrangements with Mr. Woodson to speak at the Herndon white high school. When Mr. Woodson was asked what part he played in the drama he readily admitted having invited the prince to speak as it would be a "fine geography lesson" for the class.

Killed Hearers
Mr. Woodson is the typical Virginia county school superintendent with offices in the courthouse at Fairfax, the county seat of Fairfax County. He said the prince impressed him and the invitation was extended for the (Continued on Page Eight)

of His Friend

HAMPTON INSTITUTE. — With the entire institution in full uniform, and members of the football team acting as pallbearers, the late Major Allen Washington, for fifteen years commandant of cadets at Hampton, was buried with strict military honors Friday.

The funeral service was conducted in the chapel, which the cortege entered at 3 o'clock.

Although Dr. Robert R. Moton, whom Major Washington succeeded at Hampton, was scheduled to speak at the funeral, so affected was he at the death of his friend and associate for 55 years, that he was unable to make the address. Dr. Innes delivered the funeral address.

Other speakers at the funeral included Dr. Rex Johnson of Norfolk and Dr. Phenix of Hampton Institute.

The active pallbearers were Edward Bell, Hiawatha Harris, James Unthank, Edgar Guess, Carl Hill, Maxwell Thomas, Leonard Jasper and Theodore Buggs. Following the ceremonies at the chapel, the body was laid to rest in Hampton campus cemetery.

The death of Major Washington halted the regular introductory program for new students. At the chapel service Friday morning, Dr. Phenix paid an additional tribute to the dead commandant. He died September 16 following a stroke of paralysis.

U. S. to Play in Haiti Elections 'Hands Off' Role

State Department Announces Neutral Policy; Any Disorder Up to Police

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—A hands-off policy in the elections for the Haitian Congress October 14 was announced today by the State Department.

The department's pronouncement was in the form of a statement, already issued in Haiti by the office of the American High Commissioner. It asserted American activities in Haiti are covered by the Treaty of 1915 and subsequent agreements, none of which provides for American assistance in elections.

It said:
"The various political factions in Haiti having urged the holding of Congressional elections, President Eugene Roy, who was chosen by these factions as a neutral President for this purpose, has decided to hold Congressional elections on October 14 next. These elections will be held to elect fifteen Senators and thirty-six Deputies.

"The United States Government's activities in Haiti are covered by the Treaty of 1915 and subsequent protocols for agreement. None of these provides for the United States lending assistance at any elections.

"Consequently, the United States will exercise no supervision over the elections and will not instruct its officials in Haiti to assume responsibility (Continued on Page Eight)

"Black Shirts" Now Negro's Friends!

This Latest Statement is Official,
Just Wants to See "Him in His Place"

ATLANTA, Ga.—The members of the American Fascists, better known in these parts of the "black shirts," are not enemies of the Negro, as the Negroes and a good many white folks down this way thought, but are the best friends that the Negro in the South has ever had. This fact was made known in a statement issued from the headquarters of the organization here Saturday afternoon and, therefore, is official.

The statement, promoted by the many denunciations of the order and its methods, on the part of civic organizations throughout the state and the Grand Jury appointed to investigate the organization before a charter is granted the body, declared that it is impressed that the "Black Shirts" were unfriendly to the Negro was erroneous and instead the Negro but wanted to see "him in his place."

If the operations of the order, "in place" of the Negro, indicate "his place" that place is out of a job and at the starvation point. For weeks since the organization was formed efforts have been made to force white people to give employment to white people instead of Negroes and many employers declared that they have been threatened by members of the organization if they refused (Continued on Page Eight)

Hon. Marcus Garvey Champions Cause of Labor, Flays Governor of Jamaica for Not Believing That There is Acute Suffering Among Workers

Poor People Sustain Through Direct and Indirect Taxes the "High Standard of Living" of the Rich, Yet They Are Not Represented — Welcomes Appointment of Royal Commission to Investigate Conditions

(Since Mr. Garvey's weekly feature article has been delayed in the mail this week we take the opportunity of presenting a very important fighting speech Mr. Garvey delivered recently in Jamaica championing the cause of the poor working people.—Editor.)

KINGSTON, Jamaica, B. W. I.—On Thursday night last a big political meeting was held at the Coke Chapel steps at which Councillor Marcus Garvey delivered a spirited address bearing on the announcement of the appointment of a Royal Commission to investigate the social, political and economic conditions of the British West Indies.

The meeting was called to order precisely at 8 o'clock, by Mr. J. Denison, treasurer of the Jamaica Workers and Laborers Association of which Mr. Garvey is chairman. In opening the meeting he said that it was a pleasure for him to be present at such an important meeting to be addressed by Councillor Garvey. He felt that the time had come when the people of Jamaica should rally to leadership to have their interests thoroughly and properly represented. He believed that they could find no better representative and spokesman than in Councillor Garvey so without much to say he took great pleasure in introducing Councillor Garvey as the principal speaker of the evening.

Mr. Garvey's Speech
Rising amid tumultuous cheers Councillor Garvey said: It was befitting the people at this time as citizens of Jamaica and subjects of the King to assemble in mass meeting, as they were, for the purpose of giving expression to their feelings and opinions touching the things that affect them as citizens of this country. The right to assemble was a constitutional one, and it is good that they have reached the stage of intelligence when they can assemble in large numbers and so conduct themselves as to reflect the highest honors upon them and upon their state of constitutional development and civilization. It was entirely due to the fact that they have been law-abiding and have conducted themselves in such a splendid manner to insure the public order, why he was able to report that His Majesty's good government, through our request, have seen fit to investigate into their poor economic conditions.

Mr. Garvey went on to state that it was through the services of our good friends in England why they were able to get the royal commission appointed. He stated that although there were men locally and otherwise, anxious to suppress their aspirations and to hinder their progress, there were other men within the empire who were as anxious to see that nothing was done to impede the progress of the people who were subjects of the King, and so the request that was made to them asking for a royal commission did not fail for dear ears.

Mr. Garvey said that he had always held and believed that when the proper approach was made to those in authority that everyone who had a cause to be heard, would be heard not only by His Majesty's ministers and government, but by His Majesty himself. That it was not the right of any man to suppress the hopes and aspirations of the people, because the people constitute and make up what is called the state. Without the people there could be no state and when conditions in the state are such as to create dissatisfaction among the people, it is the right of the people according to the law and constitution which they themselves have created, to so investigate such conditions as to bring about the remedy that is desired.

Mr. Garvey further said that the English people have set the example by establishing the precedence of petitioning the King and the government for the adjustment of any wrongs from which they suffer. In this instance the working and laboring people of this island sometime ago through a deputation, waited upon His Excellency the Governor, asking him to investigate into the terrible conditions of poverty and distress affecting the people of the (Continued on Page 8)

Julian in Paris en Route To Abyssinian Coronation

PARIS. Colonel Hubert Julian of the Abyssinian air forces arrived here on the European and after spending two days in Paris he left for Genoa, Italy, where he will take a ship for Abyssinia.

At the Abyssinian legation here, Julian was cordially received. A letter of official thanks will be sent to the American newspapers for their reception of him.

Accompanied by two friends this writer went to the legation and was informed by Acting Minister Masari that the latter was very much satisfied with Julian's work, and most of all of the fact that Julian had returned from America so quickly.

There is no doubt whatever that Julian left Abyssinia on a special mission for the Emperor Tafari. The Acting Minister—the Minister, I learned, has left for the opening of the League of Nations at Geneva, and had received Julian two days before—left no doubt of this. When asked whether he was satisfied with Julian, he replied: "Tres-bien, Tres-bien." (Very well, very well.)

When Julian mentioned the fact that he wanted to bring two friends to Abyssinia to settle, the Acting Minister replied that since Julian knew one who is next to the emperor, that Julian should take the matter up with him when he arrived in Addis-Ababa.

Whatever the falling out on the other side, Julian is O. K. on this side.

It is hinted here that the emperor runs the country himself, that Tafari has given Julian special orders, and that Julian is up to his old game of talking too much. Lieut. Col. Julian seems to have a good job in Abyssinia and is anxious to get back at it.

As to his being decorated by the emperor this was again confirmed by one Mr. Jackson from California, who is now in Paris.

Julian seems plentifully supplied with funds from the pace he set here on both occasions.

Southern Clergy Condemns Lynching

ATLANTA, Oct. 2.—A group of prominent clerical and lay members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in a statement issued for publication today ascribed the persistence of lynching to the neglect of religious leaders to impress the people with the "solemn warnings of the church on this subject" and weakness and complicity on the part of public officials.

The statement urged that measures be taken "to bring such recalcitrant officials to account in the courts of justice and at the bar of outraged public opinion."

The statement also said "the situation, as we see it, is serious in the extreme and challenges every religious leader, public official and Christian citizen to determined and unrelenting war upon this blighting survival of barbarism."

The statement was signed by Dr. J. W. Perry of Nashville, Tenn., home missionary secretary; Professor N. C. Newbold of Raleigh, N. C.; Dr. E. C. Peters, president of Payne College, Augusta; Mrs. J. J. McRae of Atlanta, and Dr. W. W. Alexander, director of the commission on inter-racial cooperation.

Abyssinian Emperor Starts Educational Drive; He Has Resolved to Reform People

Rich Eskimos Fly
For Sport and
Enjoy Radios

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Eskimo families which earn $40,000 a year selling white fox furs and think nothing of spending $300 a ton for coal and large sums for long airplane jaunts and radios were described by the crew of the Henderson's Bay Company trading vessel Baychimo here today after a season in the Arctic Ocean.

Natives, they said, think nothing of paying $375 for an airplane trip to Edmonton, Alta.

Easily won fortunes in the fur trading occupations of the natives had created a mode of life and diverged for expense that startled persons from "the outside," officers of the Baychimo said.

Recruits White American
Advisor to His Department of Education

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Frank Ernest Work, white, professor of history at Muskingum College, New Concord, Ohio, has accepted the post of advisor to the Department of Education of the Abyssinian Government, and will begin his duties in October. The term is for a one to three-year period.

Early in August, Professor Work was invited to Washington by a representative of the Abyssinian Government, Catiga Gabru, where the formal offer from the emperor was presented.

Death of Zauditu, Queen of Ethiopia (Abyssinia) leaves the King of Ethiopia sole ruler of the country. Ras Tafari, King of Ethiopia was the grand nephew of the Queen.

"The Conquering Lion of Judah, which is the King's other name, has actually been acting sovereign of the independent African country since he was twenty-four years old," a bulletin of the National Geographical Society asserts.

"Ten million subjects in a land as large as the United States east of the Alleghenies swear fealty to Ras Tafari. Most of them are Christians, with an ancient, well-developed creed and a church organization that is as independent of other Christian sects as the Rumanian orthodox church. One of the king's cherished ambitions is to write the history of such Abyssinian saints as St. George and St. Michael."

Discontent in Africa Spreads; Head-Tax Cause

Dispatches Tell of Revolts
Against Tyranny
of Exploiters

By J. A. ROGERS

The West African Review confirms the fact that there is considerable discontent among the natives of Nigeria, West Africa, because of a head-tax which, it is feared, will also apply to women. At the same time there has been a considerable drop in the price paid for native products.

The head-tax is imposed on the Hausas and the Yorubas, and the authorities thought it would work in this case also. The native members of the Legislative Council of Nigeria have endeavored to bring the matter to the attention of the Under-Secretary of State in London to be followed by a delegation. They demand the removal of certain chiefs who have been charged with enforcing the new laws regarding taxation.

La Depeche Coloniale of Paris announces the receipt of a telegram from Louisa, Portuguese West Africa, which says that a party of native soldiers revolted, and attempted to make prisoner of their commander, Moraes Sarmento. The latter resisted and died soon after of his injuries.

The rebellion, it is said, has been quelled after fighting, and order has been restored. No mention is made of the number of casualties.

The London Times announces a revolt of natives in the district of the Niger, Sudan, in which the officer commanding the Sudanese forces (Continued on Page Eight)

Seeks to Placate The Colored Vote

Gov. Larson of N. J. Confers With Senators Keen and Baird
on the Matter

TRENTON, N. J. Importance of the colored vote in the coming election has caused Governor Morgan F. Larson to hold a conference on the matter. States Senators Hamilton F. Keen and David Baird have held a lengthy discussion of the question of principal concern to the group is the coming Senatorial campaign, in which Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, Republican, is opposed by State Senator Simpson, Democrat.

After the conference, which took place in the Governor's office, Mr. Larson admitted that the conferees had discussed the situation arising out of the fact that the two United States Senators had voted in the Senate for the confirmation of Judge Parker to the United States Supreme Court bench.

Judge Parker's nomination was rejected by the Senate, and it is common knowledge that Keen's and Baird's votes greatly displeased the colored voters of New Jersey, who, as thousands of others of the race throughout the country, were opposed to the prejudiced southerner.

Senator Larson refused to placate the votes of the colored New Jerseyans. He declared that the action of Dr. Leroy Baxter, former Republican Assemblyman, in appearing last week before the Democratic (Continued on Page Eight)

Free, Recorder Of Deeds, Quits; Did Good Work

Created Positions for Many of the Race—
Efficient Executive

WASHINGTON, D. C. William G. Free, of Welch, W. Va., will retire from the office of Recorder of Deeds of the District of Columbia, after having filled this outstanding position for eight years and seven months, under Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover. Mr. Free was appointed by the late President Harding February 15, 1922, and was continued in office because of his splendid record.

Under Mr. Free, the Recorder's office has made its greatest improvements. The floor space has been doubled, modern office equipment substituted for antiquated broken furniture and machines; inadequately paid employees have had their salaries increased; all employees have been placed under the Personnel Classification Board and the Federal Classification Act.

The latest labor-saving devices, including a uniform accounting system, have been installed for speeding up the work and for getting better results, and a loose-leaf copying system has been put into use that will result in saving the copying of approximately 25,000,000 words a year. A cafeteria service and first aid relief facilities have also been installed in the office.

Mr. Free has created important positions for members of the race (Continued on Page Eight)
